Termination information

- 1. When the tenant vacates the premises, he/she should leave them in a reasonable condition and in a reasonably clean state. If they are not, the landlord may recover from the bond, or from the tenant directly, the costs of cleaning the premises, removing any rubbish, and so on.
- 2. The tenant and landlord (or an agent) should arrange to meet at the premises at an agreed time. They can then inspect the premises and note on the Inspection Sheet (which was filled in and received at the start of the tenancy) the state of cleanliness of the premises and any damage that has occurred during the tenancy. The tenant and landlord can then decide how much of the bond should be paid to each.
- 3. If possible, the tenant and landlord should agree on how the bond should be paid. If the tenant and landlord do agree, both should complete and sign the Refund of Bond form and lodge it with Consumer and Business Services. Make sure that the tenant's forwarding address is included on the form so that all or part of the bond, or any future correspondence, can be sent there. If agreement cannot be reached, Consumer and Business Services should be contacted.
- 4. When the tenant vacates the premises, the tenant should ensure that the tenant leaves all the keys, remote controls and security devices with the landlord or agent, and notifies the electricity entity, gas company, Australia Post, Telstra etc, so that the new tenants do not use gas, electricity and the telephone on the tenant's accounts, and so that mail can be forwarded.

The Tenants expressly consent to the collection and use of the Personal Information and content in accordance with the REISA privacy policy at www.reisa.com.au.
